Turner Pendant Light by Pholc

The Turner 65 pendant was designed by Broberg & Ridderstråle and is made from a special polymer-sprayed cocoon material which is structurally held together by metal wires. The duo have created a sphere which is split into segments, creating an ever-changing geometric silhouette that looks different from certain angles. A dynamic and intriguing pendant lamp, the Turner pendant also conceals the light source for a diffused glow. Now available in two sizes, the smaller Turner 50 (50cm) and Turner 65 (65cm).

Suitable for use as an atmospheric main light or as a functional light over tables, the Turner pendant lamp can be used in homes and professional spaces. The simple white finish means the pendant light can slip into a wide variety of design schemes and the sculptural, minimalist nature will make it a strong staple in any interior.
