Francesca Smiraglia took inspiration from the headgear worn by the Duchess of Cambridge at the 70th English Jubilee when designing the Kate LED Ceiling Light for KDLN. This lighting solution sits at a 15-degree angle, emitting semi-directional illumination and diffusing the light in an unexpected way.

The KDLN Kate LED Ceiling Light experiments with the rules of space and boasts an architectural form, crafted from metal with the choice between either a smooth white or gold leaf finish - perfect for contemporary and minimalistic spaces. This light offers a choice between two colour temperatures, either 2700K or 3000K. 2700K casts a very warm white light across the area below, while 3000K emits a cooler white light.

Also available in colours on request. Contact us for more information.
