DCW éditions La Lampe B LED Table Lamp

Designed by Thierry Dreyfus for DCW éditions, the La Lampe B resembles a sculpture in your home. The silhouette is crafted from gypsum, resulting in a smooth and continuous surface; the curves of the shade conceal the light source and also add a touch of elegance to your environment. Dreyfus's desire was to create a lamp that gently illuminates without losing its function. He therefore opted for a shape that gives the illusion of candlelight. He once again broadcasts his talent for bringing light to life, utilising simplicity, Lampe B is cast in mineral material.

The LED plate is fitted to the inside of this table lamp, reflecting around the interior and emitting a soft, warm illumination. The DCW éditions Lampe B projects the illusion of candle light and creates an intimate atmosphere - perfect for areas in your home where relaxation is key. A gorgeous addition to a living area, hallway or even next to your bed. The warm glow creates a beautiful ambience, lulling you into a calm state.
