DCW éditions Soul LED Outdoor Wall Light

The DCW éditions Soul Outdoor Wall Light was designed by French-Lebanese designer Charles Kalpakian, formed from collaboration and friendship between himself and Frédéric Winkler from DCW éditions. The duo were engaged by camaraderie and elective affinities, including a desire to work together, and above all, to get to know each other. Childhood, education, games and dreams...it is these memories that he has metabolized into the Soul collection.

Soul is a collection of wall lights that are crafted from plaster and curated to withstand outdoor weather conditions; they are designed to be scrutinised, featuring intricate designs that fill the user with a desire to look closer. Soul offers three varying designs that can be displayed individually or clustered together in larger spaces. Display these lamps in your garden, on your patio, alongside your front door or even in commercial spaces such as outdoor eating areas or bars. The minimalist white finish grants Soul the ability to adapt to a wide range of settings of varying styles.
