Fritz Hansen Kaiser Idell 6567 Wall Light

The Fritz Hansen Kaiser Idell 6567 Wall Light is the latest addition to the Kaiser Idell Collection, a series characterised by its industrial aesthetic. Designed in the 1930s by Christian Dell, the collection is being reimaged by Fritz Hansen, maintaining the spirit of the originals while adding modern upgrades. The Kaiser Idell 6567 Wall Light is the smallest lamp in the collection, designed for more constrained spaces.

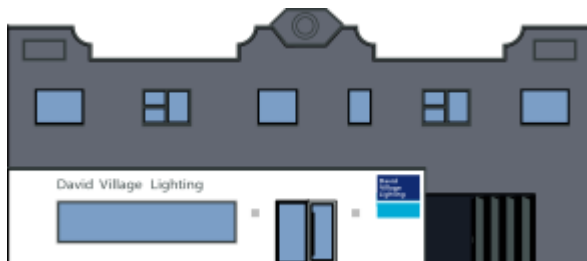

When switched on, the Kaiser Idell 6567 casts a bright, downward-directed light, perfect for task lighting. Its tiltable frame allows users to focus light precisely where required, suiting use in office spaces, bedrooms, and living areas. Available in Black, Matt Black, and White, the Idell 6567 blends seamlessly into both domestic and commercial interiors. Display individually or in pairs to frame a doorway or bed for a uniform glow and a sense of balance.

The Kaiser Idell 6567 is provided with a cable but can be hard-wired following the correct safety requirements and with the help of a qualified electrician.
