Designed by Joan Gaspar, the Marset Aura 24V Wall Light draws inspiration from the familiar shape of a traditional glass carafe. The blown glass shade sits close to the wall and allows the light to spread softly across the surface, giving the fitting a clear presence when switched on and off. Its compact circular form makes it easy to use as a single wall light, in pairs, or repeated through a hallway or hospitality interior.

With an integrated LED light source and a colour temperature of 2700K, the Aura 24V Wall Light provides cosy accent lighting for a variety of interiors. Most suited to hallways, stairways, bedrooms, living rooms, dining spaces, hotels, restaurants, and interiors where a compact glass wall light can bring a soft wash of light to the wall.
