Moooi Lolita Pendant

The fame of Nika Zupanc, a Slovenian product and interior designer, was instantly boosted with the launch of her first design produced by Moooi: the Lolita lamp. Zupanc breaks stereotypes, especially in a male-dominated industry, where reason, technicality, and utility come first. Rather, Zupanc believes that aspiration for interior products should come from intuition, vanity, and eclecticism. Lolita is a perfect example that represents Zupanc's principles, an exploration of the limits between material and emotional effects. Perhaps inspired by Nabokov's famous character, the Lolita might have a deceptively simple shade, but the lace edge combined with the pink finish options, attributes the light with a unique character of its own. The lace is also perceived as a polka dot design by most, a characteristic of the collection.

The lamp is available in three captivating finishes: London Rose, Pink, and White. When illuminated, the pendant emits a direct downwards light. You can install a single pendant or create a cluster of your own above a dining table or reception area. The Lolita lights will bring elegance into any interior, with a hint of playfulness. For a cohesive theme and sense of unity, display the Lolita Pendant with the Lolita Table Lamp.
