Gubi Grashoppa Floor Lamp

Designed in 1947 by Greta M. Grossman, the Grashoppa Floor Lamp is an iconic piece of mid-century design. Its tripod stand tilts backward, creating the impression of movement, as if the lamp is poised and alive. The elongated conical shade, mounted on a ball joint, allows the light to be directed precisely where needed while minimising glare, making it an ideal choice for reading or accent lighting. The Grashoppa Floor Lamp adds character to modern living rooms, study corners, and even hotel lounges.

Its sculptural presence and sleek design enhance contemporary interiors, while its 7 colour options, ranging from vibrant vintage red to muted warm grey, provide versatility for any aesthetic preference. Whether placed next to a reading chair or as a statement piece in a spacious room, the Grashoppa Floor Lamp is a testament to Grossman's timeless design sensibility.
