Artemide Athena Floor Lamp

The Artemide Athena Floor Lamp is a minimal and timeless design by Naoto Fukasawa, a Japanese industrial designer and teacher who has collaborated with many well-known brands. Athena is composed of two identical discs that make up the head and base, and a slim stem that connects the two. The design allows the Athena Floor Lamp to adapt to a range of modern interiors due to its minimalistic form, whilst the sleek black finish can blend into almost any decor style.

Naoto's design emits a sublime beauty ingrained with a powerful silence. Athena is suitable for both public and private environments, a stunning addition to living rooms, dining areas, offices, entryways, hotel and reception areas. The rounded head is fitted with LD technology, producing a gentle indirect uplight towards the ceiling above that doesn't result in visual discomfort for the user.

Please Note: The Artemide Athena is also available in a white finish. Please contact us for more information and pricing.
