Orsjo Belysning Tratten Wall Light

The Tratten Wall Light was originally designed in the 60s by Hans Agnes Jakobsson. He was known for designs utilising rough materials that create softer and more pleasant lights. Although originally designed for exterior use, the lamp can be used either indoor or outdoor. When used outdoor, the materials, either copper or brass, will oxidise and age beautifully - creating a lovely patina with age.

The Tratten has become a true classic over the years and today, many of his designs are considered collectable. This lamp has a raw, industrial feel to it and will toughen up any place it is hung.
