Foscarini Uto Pendant Light

Designed by Lagranja Design in 2005, the Foscarini Uto Pendant is made from a flexible rubber material, lending a playful and interactive touch to the room. The pendant light has a coned end with an inner diffuser which conceals the light source to produce a glare-free, soft glow that is directed downwards.

The flexibility of the material allows you to artistically hang the light, whether you want the pendant to hang straight down or be manipulated into a curled shape to give the impression of a chandelier. The Uto Pendant Light can be used in many domestic or commercial settings, such as lounges, hallways, dining rooms and more and can also be enjoyed outdoors. Available in 3 vibrant colours, orange, yellow or white, this pendant lamp can be used alone or in rows or clusters.
