Verpan Fun-1DM Pendant Light

The Verpan Fun-1DM Pendant Light is part of the iconic range of pendant lights created by Verner Panton in 1964. Inspired by a trip to Malaysia, Verner Panton introduced the pearly texture of the seashell discs to his designs which not only create a delicate, vibrant feature but also interact with light in a unique way. The seashell material diffuses light beautifully whilst also allowing a generous outpouring of light into the room.

The delicate way in which the discs are hung around the chrome metallic rings means that the movement of air can create a chiming sound which has become iconic to the Verpan brand. This interaction with the light, movement and sound has come from Verner Panton's ability to challenge the status quo.
